... Texas Pacific bill say they ... by the vote obtained ... Matthews motion to take up ... to Blaine's resol... bill They ...

senators who supported Matthews motion are certain to vote for their bill and several of the 32 who voted no on that motion are likewise their sworn friends The correctness of this claim is however not admitted by leading opponents of the Texas Pacific measure Both is one of those who votes against taking it up Mitchell also voted no and Grover was recorded in the affirmative

Another Story—More Troubles

NEW YORK, Dec 17—The Sun's Washington special says The Texas Pacific men are depressed to night at the result in the senate Their manager Matthews undoubtedly expected that by antagonizing Blaine's resolution with the Texas Pacific bill he would get a solid Democratic vote This would have been claimed as a triumph for the job but the effort was a failure This defeat with the suit began in this district by the French land grant bondholders has made the lobby very blue An application has been made by ex Senator Cameron for a restraining order against the Texas Pacific to prevent the transfer of a great proportion of the land grant from the state of Texas which is the security pledged by the old Memphis & El Paso road for bonds issued and sold in France by Fremont It will open up the whole subject of the sale of the Memphis & El Paso road on various alleged collusive orders obtained from Judge Bradley and the state courts of Texas A bill in equity has been drawn it is said with great care by Matt Carpenter and Douglas Campbell of New York and some startling developments are promised when the hearing takes place This is a direct challenge in the courts to John A C Grey and the Texas Pacific to submit if they dare to a legal investigation of the proceedings which have created the great scandal It is said to be an earnest and bona fide effort to secure judicial inquiry into the alleged collusive proceedings by which the Memphis & El Paso was turned over to a receiver and finally by transparent legal chicanery transferred to the Texas Pacific in order to benefit a few individuals and cheat thousands of holders of bonds of the original company.

The World's Washington special, speaking of the vote on the Texas Pacific yesterday says Friends of the measure feel greatly encouraged by the result It indicates that the measure has very much more strength than its enemies gave it credit for It is noticeable too, that a number of pronounced friends of the bill were absent

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The War Subject again in Parliament

LONDON Dec 1—In the house of commons Sir George Campbell remarked that the porte was still able to largely import munitions of war from America although it professed its inability to relieve Rhodope refugees

Stanhope, under secretary for India, moved a resolution that the consent of the house be given to the defrayal of the Afghan war expenses from the Indian revenues He said the government hoped and believed that the war would remain a mere frontier war

Fawcett moved an amendment to the effect that the proposal was unjust.

Gladstone seconded the amendment declaring that the proposal forfeited the house to entirely abdicate its control over the direction of the war

After several minor speeches Sir Stafford Northcote declared it was not intended to charge the whole military expenditure on India

Debate adjourned

Eastern Affairs

CONSTANTINOPLE Dec 1—Russian authorities at Adrianople have sold immense quantities of grain and a large number of horses. It is stated that they intend to evacuate the city in January The Turks have expelled some insurgent bands from Novi Bazar district. Austria has asked permission to appoint residents in Novi Bazar to observe the movements of insurgents

Outrage on the Island of Crete

CANDIA, Dec 17—The Eastern Telegraph Co's superintendent here, William Anderson an Englishman and a native employe of the company were murdered outside the gates of the city on Saturday evening Mr Sand with the British consul are investigating the outrage

Worse and Worse from the Bank Investigation.

LONDON Dec 17—The report of the investigating committee on the West of England and South Wales district bank shows that the whole of the capital and the reserve fund have been lost and that there is a further deficiency of a million and a half dollars for which the shareholders are liable There is no possibility of a reconstruction of the bank

British Troops Annoyed by a Predatory Tribe

A correspondent with the Khurum column reports that a predatory tribe attacked on Sunday the rear guard of the convoy east of Sapleri pass General Roberts sent two regiments which rescued the convoy Two British officers were severely wounded three Ghoorkas killed and twelve Ghoorkas and one Highlander wounded General Roberts has summoned the chief of the Khurum tribe to answer for the outrage It is feared that three powerful tribes will combine against the British

Gone to Princess Alice's Funeral

LONDON Dec 17—The Prince of Wales Prince Christian and Prince Leopold have left for Darmstadt to attend the funeral of Princess Alice

The Times says the introduction and withdrawal of the motion for granting aid to the sufferers in the Rhodope district becomes very simple when the reasons are stated It was thought by ministers that the distress revealed by the report of the Rhodope commission was a fitting object for parliamentary aid but it would have been indecorous to make an act of charity the occasion of a heated debate and the purpose of the government was no sooner known than it was clear that it would be resisted on both sides of the house

Personal.

William Anderson superintendent of the Eastern Telegraph Co murdered at Candia Crete on Saturday was a nephew of Sir James Anderson managing director

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC 18, 1878

THE DAIRY INTEREST

During a few years past the butter and cheese industry of the United States has increased to wonderful proportions. It has, in fact without hitherto attracting any great attention grown to be one of the chief agricultural interests of the country. Exportation of butter and cheese to England during the last five years has increased so rapidly as to alarm British producers and the admitted excellence of the American product easily obtains for it the best rates in the market. During the year 1868 we exported but 3,082,117 pounds of butter and 8,098,527 pounds of cheese. Up to the first of December of the present year the exportation from the port of New York alone was 21,004,569 pounds of the former and 125,451,641 pounds of the latter. The average price of butter at time of shipment during the present year has been fifteen cents and of cheese eight cents. Through the international dairy fair recently held at New York the great and growing importance of this branch of industry has been brought more prominently before public attention. We find that the value of butter and cheese annually produced in the United States now reaches the prodigious total of $350,000,000 which is one third more than the value of the cotton crop and only one fifth less than that of the corn crop and persons like Gov Seymour who have made the subject one of special study, express the opinion that the dairy interest is destined to overshadow all other agricultural industries. But it is really profitable only when pursued as a specialty with modern appliances and modern knowledge. Only thus can a strictly fine product be obtained which will command the market. For the dairy business no part of the United States can surpass our own. Development of a market for dairy products would be a vast gain for us, since it would bring this highly important industry at once into great prominence in our state.

What may prove the beginning of a serious matter is reported by dispatches from Yakima. It cannot be considered probable that Moses has assumed an attitude of hostility and caused an attack upon the party who have gone to his camp; and yet it may be that he has not power to restrain his Indians. If the mission of the party was only to search for the Perkins murderers he would not be likely to offer any opposition but if its purpose was to force him and his followers to leave their present locality and go to a reservation as was foreshadowed by a letter from Yakima to THE OREGONIAN a few days ago, it was nothing less than an ill advised and foolhardy enterprise. For Moses will fight before he will go and no sheriff's posse or volunteer company is able to handle him. The upshot will be that the expedition must either be abandoned, or more or less of the company will be killed and the balance forced to retire. And then we shall have an Indian war on our hands. Relations with this band are so critical that the greatest care is necessary to prevent a conflict.

A resident of Chemnitz, Saxony mailed at that place at 7 P M on May 24th, a postal card addressed to himself, carrying a request to all postmasters to dispatch it successively and without loss of time, to Alexandria, Singapore, Yokohama, San Francisco and New York, and thence to Chemnitz, his object being to win a wager that with the existing postal arrangements the circuit of the world could be made within 120 days. The request was complied with and the card arrived in Chemnitz from New York on the 117th day. The postmaster general of Germany has caused this card to be photographed and has transmitted a copy to the Berne international bureau with the remark that had it been posted one hour earlier it would have accomplished its journey in ninety six days instead of 117.

A year or so ago some fellow asserted that the editor of THE OREGONIAN while collector of customs, "cleared $30,000." In consideration of the fact that the said collector had received exactly the pay allowed by law, and no more, he couldn't see where the $30,000 came in. But pretty soon another fellow took up the matter and said the amount was $40,000. Then it was not long till the one who had started it raised the amount to $50,000, where it stood for some time and now the veracious Tony takes it up and calls it $60,000. He raises all the rest $10,000, just as easy as he lifted that $10,000 out of the state treasury by "experting." And as he says he committed no perjury in the one case, doubtless he will as readily affirm that he hasn't lied in the other.

E. M. Kingsley of New York one of the members of the board of Indian commissioners, recently said before the commission having under consideration the transfer of the Indian bureau to the war department that "we need an army with hoes and spades rather than with swords and rifles." Only under certain conditions is the remark an apposite one. There are occasions when we need an army with swords and rifles to kill and with hoes and spades to bury. Hence it isn't best always to separate the two sorts of [illegible]

The New York Times is severe. It speaks of the document as a timid and feeble thing pervaded by a kind of imbecile optimism. The Times says he has simply trifled with the southern issue and as to financial questions it finds he lacks courage or purpose to make any proper recommendations. In some quarters it says his mild platitudes may pass for amiability but they will be more generally regarded as evidence of weakness.

Says the Salt Lake Tribune: Interest in Utah affairs still remains unabated. From all sections of the union reports are received of the active circulation of anti polygamy petitions to congress. The women appear to be fully aroused to the situation.

An Excellent Judge

Judge Harding is acquitting himself most creditably and successfully in the discharge of his duties in the third judicial district. The Dallas Itemizer has the following in relation to him:

During the session of court which closed on Wednesday last Judge Harding won golden opinions both from the members of the bar and the people of this county generally. Though pleasant and affable with all when off the bench while sitting as judge he upheld the dignity of his position in a manner worthy of commendation. His rulings were generally conceded by the members of the bar to be correct and the universal opinion is that he is the right man in the right place. The taxpayers are unanimous in their commendation of his conduct, and say that the promptness with which he dispatches business is highly commendable. We learn that some of the attorneys grumble at court being held day and night yet the judge can feel assured that the people who pay the taxes are proud of a judge who knows no eight hour system but is anxious to lessen the burden imposed on the tax payers incurred by sessions of circuit court.

Purely an Accident.

The following, which comes from Washington under date of Dec 1[illegible] explains why the South Carolina legislature is not as solid as the delegation in congress:

It turns out that the three Republicans in the South Carolina legislature are there by accident. It is generally supposed that the Republicans were allowed to carry Beaufort county to give an appearance of fairness to the unanimity of all the other counties but the bottom facts have come to light. Ten thousand tissue ballots were prepared in Charleston to ship to Beaufort but en route the ship ran on to a sandbar delaying the tickets until Tuesday night when it was too late. By this accident the Republicans carried the county and got three members of the legislature.

Ohio Politics

Washington Special Dec 10

There is authority for the statement that the Ohio Republicans' strongest man for the next gubernatorial canvass is Charles Foster and for the next presidential candidate John Sherman. It is stated that the friends of Senator Thurman will insist on his being the next candidate for governor of Ohio believing him the only man to beat the Republicans and if successful he will be able to secure the nomination to the presidency.

GRAND FREE OPENING!

—ON—

Wednesday Evening, December 18, 1878,

THIS RESORT WILL BE OPEN EVERY day and evening and is a place where all can attend and spend an evening in pleasant and healthful exercise. Matches in athletic sports will be introduced from time to time. Daily and illustrated papers on file. d17

Opening To-Day. Dec. 18th.

IN ORDER THAT THERE MIGHT BE NO ROOM for complaint, I visited San Francisco and selected IN THE CUSTOM HOUSE immediately upon receipt upwards of 20,000 Havana cigars. The invoice from which I picked them is declared by the Customs officials to be the largest ever received through that institution. I have incurred a great risk in purchasing so large a quantity of perishable goods and therefore feel more than ordinary concern about them. I trust my friends and the public will appreciate my enterprise—as much to their interest as mine—and accord me a liberal patronage. As to quality no better goods can be had anywhere. Retailed at 12½ cents to 50 cents each and no misrepresentation. It should be borne in mind that it is a very common practice to resort to ingenious methods in Imported Havana, (so called) traffic. No imitation goods are sold for Imported at my establishment. I have also a small lot of bona fide Imported Manillas duty paid. First come first served.

Box customers and the Trade supplied at much lower rates than usual. Nothing is more acceptable to a smoker for a Christmas present than a box of nice cigars.

A new style of plug tobacco received samples free. A new line of Cigarettes Cigarette tobacco and Cigarette paper. 30,000 New York 5 and 10 cent cigars in stock.

CITY.

THE CHURCH SUNK.—Yesterday the steamer S. T. Church while descending the river was snagged and sunk at Gervais slough. Capt Pratt was at the wheel at the time and thought he would bring the boat over near the shore at a bend in the river. In doing so the current caught the boat and carried her over against the end of an ash tree which had fallen into the river. The boat guards scraped against the end of the log and the hull had a hole stove in it. Finding the steamer leaking badly the captain started for the opposite shore to beach her. This he did not succeed in doing very well. The bow and stern of the boat rest on the ground but the middle being unsupported is liable to break by the weight. About 240 tons of freight was on board at the time most of which being flour. The principal portion of the cargo will be lost. Kinney Bros had on board nearly $10,000 worth of flour which will probably be a total loss. At present it is thought that the Church cannot be got off.

We noticed a change in the orchestra at the New Market Theater last evening. Mr. Chas. Bray, so long identified with the dramatic business in this city has taken charge of it, which is a guarantee to the public that both the orchestra and stage music will be fully up to the proper standard. The music last evening was excellent, a cornet duet by Messrs. Bray and Timm being a notable feature. The orchestra is composed of Messrs. Van Osten and Roos piano and violin. Messrs. Bray and Timm, cornets. Mr Parrish, clarionet and Mr H Smith tympani

PILOT COMMISSIONERS

Monday the pilot commissioners for the Columbia and Willamette rivers met in Astoria.

Branches were ordered on the rivers for Captains P. Johnson, James Strang and George A Pease and on the bar to Captains A D, Wass and George C. Flavel.

There are now eight pilots on the rivers as follows: M M Gilman P E Ferchen Philip Johnson, H A Snow Irving Stevens and Granville Reed, of Astoria. James Strang and Geo A Pease, of Portland and five upon the bar Captain A D Wass, George C Flavel, Wm F Tribble, A W Howard and J C Crocker, all duly licensed by the commissioners.

Mr. Hamilton, the commissioner from Portland arrived yesterday and the work of the session which lasted through two days was completed last evening.

Besides the five pilots above mentioned on the bar Capt. Flavel has four others from Washington territory employed upon the steamtug Astoria and her tenders, making nine bar pilots and there is one Washington territory pilot on the river and five licensed by the United States authorities for the bar, thus giving a total of fourteen pilots on the bar and nine for the rivers, an aggregate of twenty-three.

AMUSEMENTS.

ADA CAVENDISH AS "MERCY MERRICK"

A star of no common magnitude broke on the theatrical firmament last evening in the person of Miss Ada Cavendish who appeared as Mercy Merrick in Wilkie Collins' powerful creation "New Magdalen."

The interest in a fine play truthfully portrayed is even greater than the interest in a beautiful statue or picture. For no matter how true to nature may be the sculpture or the painting no one ever forgets that what he looks upon is but a block of chiseled marble or flat, square of inanimate canvas. On the stage there is room at times for forgetfulness of art. Before the eye there are pictures and situations of flesh and blood of feeling and emotion and even the most self-conscious spectator spell bound for the moment by the cunning of art and the appropriateness of the scene will forget the actor and applaud the character.

Portland theater goers are not prone in their estimate of histrionic exponents to mistake a good actress for an indifferent one nor can they be induced to pronounce an inferior actress a good one. Before this test Miss Cavendish has nothing to fear; she can safely rely alone on her own intrinsic merits. It is seldom that a first night audience here accorded such unqualified approval to the efforts of a new comer as was given last evening to Miss Cavendish. Her first appearance as Mercy Merrick dressed becomingly as a hospital nurse of the Order of the Red Cross did not fail to produce a favorable impression in behalf of the lady and her advent on the stage was the signal for warmly bestowed plaudits. When she spoke her soft sympathetic voice clear English enunciation and entire freedom from stage mannerism or affectation very rapidly augmented this good impression. By the time the end of the second act was reached—when "Mercy Merrick, now personating Grace Roseberry" whom she believes to have been killed comes hastily into the drawing room gaily dressed and in exuberant spirits just at that critical moment to meet face to face the real Grace, and falls in a dead faint—the lady's success was established beyond doubt. But here she had not attained the climax. In the great scene—third act—where "Mercy" gradually led up and inspired by the noble and exalted sentiments of Julian Gray the young clergyman rises superior to the innate pride of womanhood and resolves to confess her duplicity to Lady Janet Roy on whose loving and confiding nature she had imposed and to return to her former life of sorrow and degradation she won a triumph complete and unequivocal. When confronted by the real Grace whose cold and heartless nature won for her not one spark of that human sympathy which was hers by right when smarting and cowering beneath the cruel upbraidings and taunts hurled at her by that deeply injured and unforgiving woman then from the very dust of humiliation does she gather up her bruised, bleeding heart and her proud spirit rises in defiance and forces those words hotly to her lips which reiterate her long acted deception: "I am Grace Roseberry, and you are Mercy Merrick." Such a burst of applause as greeted those words which rang through the auditors with a magnetic force is seldom witnessed at New Market Theater. With what subtle grace does Miss Cavendish reach this climax but great as it is the lady seemed to experience no difficulty in sustaining with admirable skill the high pitch of interest and enthusiasm her genius had created. But the fourth act was reserved for displaying the real intelligent dramatic qualities of this gifted lady. In that act without resorting to any stage trickery without once exaggerating the natural act suited to the suffering almost crushed woman without ever raising her voice to its full power this lady so augmented the interest in and intensity of each situation as to bind her audience in such close linked sympathy and excite them to spasmodic and frequent untimely applause. To Miss Cavendish must be accorded the possession of the wonderful art of expressing deep feeling without apparent effort, violent passion without approximation to melodramatic elocution (a defect so painfully noticeable with many actresses of the intense emotional school,) dual and conflicting emotions without over leaping the limits imposed by nature, and in almost every instance maintain the natural bearing of an educated lady who is likewise a thoroughly accomplished actress.

In many respects the play differs from the versions of Wilkie Collins story already produced in this city. Mr Collins has adapted the greater powers of Miss Cavendish and while concentrating the chief interest of the story in the heroine has preserved all its best and strongest dramatic situations.

Miss Cavendish has all the requisites of a great actress—a voice whose purity and flexibility permit a wide range of emotional expression a hand some face full of meaning, a lithe and graceful figure and a large measure of dramatic force and suppressed intensity. The lady can scarcely fail to become a favorite with this public. If a clear conception of the character she assumes and splendid artistic method in conveying the same avail anything we hazard nothing by the prediction.

The play was superbly mounted and several new and elegant scenes fresh from the very clever brush of Wm Porter were conspicuously noticeable. With scarcely an exception the support was highly creditable. Mr Lindsay assumed the important character of Julian Gray. Notwithstanding he was somewhat lacking in force and strength his quiet undemonstrative manner and pleasant elocution won for him general approbation. He was graceful earnest cool and strong and therefore depicted the character rather as Wilkie Collins drew him than is the ordinary "leading" actor would desire to interpret the part. Miss Walters assumed the rather disagreeable part of "Grace Roseberry" with admirable effect and justly shared the honors of the evening. Miss Allen as "Lady Janet Roy" acquitted herself surprisingly well—dressing and acting the part quite acceptably. Mr Sutherlin as Horace Holmcroft did quite well. There is certainly room for improvement in elocution and manner, but under the circumstances, much allowance should be made for the young man. Altogether considered the piece was presented most satisfactorily. "New Magdalen" again to night. Do not fail to witness it.

FOUND DEAD.

Yesterday morning Coroner Cooke was notified that a Mr. W J Shanklin was found lying dead in his bed at his room on Alder street between Sixth and Seventh. Mr Cooke proceeded to the place and after summoning a jury held an inquest on the body. After investigating the case carefully the jury returned a verdict of death by natural causes. Shanklin was a native of Ireland, but had resided for many years in this country. Deceased was about 44 years of age and unmarried. He was employed as salesman in the store of Mr Selling on First street for several months, and lately in the store of Comstock & Pfluger. He was given to hard drinking and quite frequently would go off on a spree. Socially he was a good, clever fellow and was a good business man. Monday night he went to his room and before going to bed he sent some one of the house to the drug store for some medicine. The medicine was a narcotic poison. He was left to himself after going to bed, as no danger was suspected. This morning when the land lady went to call him she found him dead. Whether he took the poison with the intention of destroying himself or accidentally took an over dose, will never be known probably. The unfortunate man has no relatives in this country but is a Free Mason, and he will have a decent burial. The funeral will probably take place to day

THE DEATH PENALTY

Archie Brown Sentenced to be Hanged on the 7th of February—His Remarks and Conduct—Sentence of Judge Bellinger

Yesterday morning Eugene L Avery, alias Archie Brown one of the men who entered the pawn broker shop of Walter Olsen on Washington street robbed the place struck the proprietor over the head with a heavy piece of iron and narrowly escaped killing him and then in his efforts to escape shot and instantly killed the boy Louis Joseph was called up for sentence in the state circuit court.

Judge Bellinger asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced against him. Brown in response made substantially the following statement: "The punishment I think is too severe for the offense with which I stand charged and convicted. I do not think I have had a fair and impartial trial on account of the strong prejudice entertained by this court against me. The court has ruled against me in every instance and it has shown prejudice in the rulings and instructions to the jury. The prejudice of the court has been very apparent during the entire trial. The district attorney has been permitted to ask such leading questions which would not have been allowed in any other court in the United States. I do not think that I have had a fair deal anyhow."

During the remarks made by Brown he seemed to manifest a strong, stolid indifference combined with a spirit of malice and hatred almost shocking to witness. While he spoke there was not the least indication of contrition for the terrible crime which he had committed nor a sense of dread of the awful fate in reserve for him. He seemed transformed into a very fiend incarnate, and as he glanced about the court room there was a fierce purpose expressed in his eye as if murder was still lurking in his heart. Those who witnessed this exhibition of temper and utter depravity of heart felt as if the prisoner who thus spoke had denied himself that measure of human sympathy to which even the lowest and vilest criminal is entitled. He seemed to desire to say more than he had uttered, but a sense of regard for his present situation restrained him. He paused several times and the court, supposing he had concluded, began, but would be interrupted by the prisoner. His whole demeanor seemed to indicate that if he dared, he would have said a great deal more.

THE SENTENCE

At the close of Brown's remarks Judge Bellinger said:

I will not aggravate the awful situation in which you are placed by commenting upon the circumstances of the crime of which you have been convicted, or by referring to the charges which you have made of unfairness and prejudice in your trial by the court.

The punishment in cases of this kind is fixed by law and is not within the discretion of the court.

You have had a fair and impartial trial. Your defense has been conducted by counsel who are among the ablest in the profession. A jury in the conscientious discharge of their duty have found you guilty as charged in the indictment. It is therefore ordered by this court that you be taken hence to the county jail of the county, that you be there safely kept until Friday, the 7th day of February, 1879, that between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day you be taken from thence to the place of execution and that you be there in the manner provided by law hanged by the neck until you are dead and may God have mercy on your soul.

At the conclusion of the sentence Brown remarked in a sarcastic sort of way, "I thank you Mr Judge for your sympathy."

REMARKS BY THE COURT

After Brown had been remanded to his cell Judge Bellinger remarked:

In view of what has just taken place and since it may be presumed that defendant's in criminal actions derive whatever impressions they may have in respect to the ruling and conduct of the trial by the court, from their counsel, I deem it my duty to say that from the circumstances of this case and the standing in their profession of the counsel, there can be no such presumption here. The statements made by the prisoner were at his own suggestion and upon his own responsibility.

This statement by the court was confirmed by Judge Page and Mr Stott of counsel for Browne, who also stated that they had had great difficulty with the defendant during the entire trial, to keep him within the bound of decorum.

STILL IN THE LEAD

IN VARIETY STYLE ELEGANCE OF GOODS AND LOW PRICES

In displaying my holiday stock I take pleasure in announcing to the public that my selections this season while in San Francisco have never been surpassed by any one—it being the finest invoice of jewelry watches diamonds and silver ware ever imported into the state. Owing to the prolonged continuation of hard times in the east and California, I was enabled to purchase at prices greatly below anything heretofore, and my customers are thereby gainers in being able to obtain fine goods at prices materially reduced from former times.

I cordially invite the public to examine my stock and ascertain for themselves assuring them that my well established reputation for fair dealing will be maintained, knowing that my goods cannot be excelled and the prices are as low as honest competition can place them.

In presenting the above for public consideration I feel convinced that the patronage so liberally extended me heretofore will be continued as I will leave nothing undone to please and satisfy all. I C Henrichsen, 149 First street, Portland

BELLIGERENT MOSES.

SERIOUS INDIAN TROUBLE THREATENED AT PRIESTS RAPIDS

The following dispatch to THE OREGONIAN was received here yesterday:

WALLULA W T Dec 7, 1878

Three woodchoppers arrived here last night and report having met the sheriff of Yakima county with a company of 30 whites and 15 friendly Indians last Saturday night near Priests Rapids on Columbia river, who had been to Chief Moses' camp for the murderers of the Perkins family. Although Moses had promised to aid the sheriff in capturing these murderers he met the sheriff and his party with his whole band of well armed warriors in war paint and with the most hostile demonstrations. The sheriff retreated from Moses stronghold and was apparently trying to evade pursuit. When seen he told the ... men to get to some settlement as soon as possible and stay with him a while. One of the men claims to have seen the renegade chieftain Smohollie at Priests Rapids. Friendly Indians have been warning woodchoppers in the vicinity of Priests Rapids to leave for some time.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS

To Gen Howard we are indebted for the following additional particulars of the present situation: Agent Wilbur on the 10th inst sent 14 of his Indian police from Fort Simcoe to Moses. They were accompanied by about 30 white men and the sheriff or deputy of Yakima county. These now claim to be a posse with the sheriff. They seem to have found Moses' camp, recovered some stolen property and one of the murderers of the Perkins family and started to return. They were attacked or surrounded without attack at Priests Rapids. A messenger was sent from the party in haste to Yakima calling for help. Citizens of Yakima call upon Gen Howard and the governor of Washington territory for relief. The sheriff sends a message to Gov. Ferry begging for arms and ammunition. This report is made by three citizens of Yakima City signing themselves as the organs of a public meeting. One of them is the sheriff of the county. A special messenger Mr ... R Ballard came with the dispatches from Yakima City to The Dalles whence he sent dispatches in substance as above and will come to Vancouver to day with further particulars. Gen Howard thinks the report exaggerated as nobody appears to be killed or wounded and it is doubtful if there has been even a skirmish at Priest's Rapids. He has however ordered 200 soldiers from Walla Walla to Wallula to avoid possible delay in case of the confirmation of alarming reports.

PORTLAND April 18 8

To the citizens of Oregon I make the following statement for publication. On the 22d of February, 1878, my little boy William then 5 years and 6 months old was stricken with total paralysis at 12 o'clock at night for which I could assign no reason whatever. He remained totally helpless from the body down for two days with no apparent change. He had a high fever limbs badly swollen ate nothing and so great was his pain that his night clothes could not be removed from him as the least movement caused the most excruciating pain. In this hopeless condition I took him to Dr C. M Wood Magnetic Physician, of Portland who perfectly restored our boy in six treatments (consecutively) and at this writing he remains perfectly well and hearty and has never had a symptom of the disease since.

Compound Syrup

Is composed of ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood Muscle Nerve and Brain Substance while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them

Dr Howe's Testimony

[illegible] the past two years I have given [illegible] syrup of Hypophosphites a fair [illegible] somewhat severe trial in my practice In rest[illegible] cases suffering from emaciation and the [illegible] wing diphtheria it has done wonders I con[illegible] recommend its use in all affections of the [illegible] and lungs In several cases considered hopeless [illegible] it has given relief, and the patients are [illegible] Among these are consumptive and [illegible] impaired dig[illegible]

[illegible] M D

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Private Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language But where he has found them perished and broken down by disease mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself; Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
